

MINERS' STRIKE NOT UNLIKELY

Labor Leaders View The Situation With Anything But Optimistic Light.

IT ALL DEPENDS UPON THE OWNERS

Workers Are Sure To Protest Any Reduction Of The Scale, And May Quit Work If Employers
Persist In Plans.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Max S. Hayes, prominent in union labor circles and a delegate to the Pittsburgh convention of the American Federation of Labor, has sent to the Cleveland Leader a resume of the coal strike situation. Hayes is a close friend of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America and has obtained from him the first definite statement of the miners' leader has made regarding the plans of the coming battle with the coal operators.

"Will there," Hayes asks, "be a great national strike and lockout in the coal-mining districts next spring, involving upward of 500,000 and resulting in the paralysis of the entire industry and the hastening of a business crisis?"

"This question, which has been uppermost in the minds of those who have watched industrial developments during the last few months, was answered partly by those who were regarded as the spokesmen of the miners, and it remains for the operators to supply the balance of the information necessary to clear the situation.

Looks for Great Strike.
"My personal opinion is, after carefully considering the details incident to our trade, that there will be a national suspension in the mining industry next spring. I don't see how it can be averted if the operators of the anthracite and bituminous coal fields attempt to enforce their threats of reducing wages and ignoring our union."

These words were spoken by Vice President Tom Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America in discussing the mining situation. Mr. Lewis added that the miners were making every preparation to meet the issue and battle for the life of their organization and to maintain the wage scale they now have and better the same if possible.

"President Mitchell was inclined to agree in the main with the prediction of his chief lieutenant.

Depends on Operators.
"If the mining operators insist upon a further reduction of wages for mining coal it simply means fight," he declared with emphasis. "Not only will our members not accept a cut in wages, but they will in all probability demand a restoration of the 5 1/2 per cent reduction agreed to in the bitu-

DOUGHERTY PLEADS GUILTY TO THE CHARGES BROUGHT AND IS GIVEN SENTENCE

Former Superintendent Of The Peoria Schools
Is Now A Convicted Felon--To Go To Prison.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Peoria, Ill., Nov. 24.—Newton C. Dougherty, the embezzler, pleaded guilty this morning to the charges against him and was given an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary at Joliet. Ever since Dougherty was arrested for looting the school funds he has maintained his innocence and used every advantage given by the law in vain. He has paled and aged considerably since going to jail and trembled as he made his plea. The special auditing committee's work is incomplete, but as far as is known he took at least ninety-four thousand dollars in one year, and it seems likely the speculations will be found to reach a million dollars. Dougherty is ex-president of the National Educational society, a former president of the First National Bank of Peoria, and was superintendent of the Peoria schools when his irregularities were discovered.

The cabinet assembled at noon and all members were present except Lord Salisbury. The situation is admitted as critical and that radical steps must be taken at once to sustain the present government. There have been no riots, but petitions and mass-meetings of the unemployed.

There was no sensation, as was expected, at the meeting. The session lasted about two hours. No official announcement as to what was done has been made.

Dynamite Is Ignited at Bottom of Seventy-Foot Shaft Beneath New York Streets.

New York, Nov. 24.—Seventeen men at work in the tunnel which the Long Island railroad is excavating from Long Island City to the foot of Forty-second street and thence to the Grand Central station, were injured early Friday morning by the explosion of a stick of dynamite at the bottom of a seventy-foot shaft near Third avenue.

Six of the workmen were so badly hurt that they were removed to a hospital, while eleven others, suffering from cuts and bruises, had their injuries attended to by surgeons.

Fifty men were at work in the tunnel, when one of the employees operating a drill accidentally struck a stick of dynamite that had been left at the base of the shaft. Immediately there was an explosion which shook many buildings in the vicinity and threw the men in all directions. Several of the men were unconscious and buried under the debris. It is believed that all the injured will recover.

WAS A NOTABLE SOCIETY EVENT

BALL GIVEN BY MRS. HARRIS AND MISS WILCOX.

CENTRAL HALL THE SCENE

Of Merrymaking Until Two O'clock This Morning—All Appointments Superb—Many Beautiful Gowns.

Surpassing music, simple elegance in the decorative scheme, the presence of an unusually large number of visitors from other cities, the initial appearance of many new and beautiful gowns, and the cordiality of the welcome extended, combined to make the dancing party given by Mrs. A. J. Harris and her sister, Miss Vera Wilcox, at Central hall last evening, the most notable social event of the past twelve months in Janesville. The guests were received at the southwest entrance to the ball-room by Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Miss Wilcox shortly before nine o'clock. Mrs. Harris was attired in white silk and Miss Wilcox wore a gown of pink chiffon, princess style, and a rosebud wreath. Palms, banked high in the background, tall vases which held great clusters of yellow and white chrysanthemums, banquet lamps, rugs, and easy chairs, formed the setting for this formality.

Appointments were perfect. As the dancers entered each was provided with a tiny box of colored ribbon, which, in conjunction with the four great spheres of light which depended from a framework of greens in the center of the hall and which subsequently burned green and red and blue, were to determine the summons to the refreshment rooms below. Frappe was served at a dainty booth in the southeast corner and several boxes of choice cigars tempted many of the gentlemen to the smoking-room until Kneff & Hatch's full orchestra, almost concealed behind an immense screen of Southern smilax, sounded the opening number. From that time on until two this morning the ball-room was a scene of gaiety and swirling color and for many, even at that late hour, the Home Sweet-Home melody came all too soon.

Personnel of the Guests

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Schuman, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, and Miss Helen Dodson, of Chicago; Miss Alice Murphy of New Haven, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. A. P. LET YOUR STOMACH HAVE ITS OWN WAY.

Do Not Try to Drive and Force it to Work When it is Not Able or You Will Suffer All the More.

You cannot treat your stomach as some men treat a balky horse; force, drive or even starve it. Into doing work at which it rebels. The stomach is a patient and faithful servant and will stand much abuse and ill treatment before it "balks," but when it does you had better go slow with it and not attempt to make it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their stomachs work by starving themselves. They might cure the stomach that way, but it would take so long that they would have no use for a stomach when they got through. The sensible way out of the difficulty is to let the stomach rest if it wants to and employ a substitute to do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work of your stomach for you and digest your food just as your stomach used to when it was well. You can prove this by putting your food in a glass jar with one of the tablets and sufficient water and you will see the food digested in just the same time as the digestive fluids of the stomach would do it. That will satisfy your mind. Now, to satisfy both your mind and body take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating—eat all and what you want—and you will feel in your mind that your food is being digested because you will feel no disturbance or weight in your stomach. In fact, you will forget all about having a stomach just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act in a natural way because they contain only the natural elements of the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach. It makes no difference what condition the stomach is in, they go right ahead of their own accord and do their work. They know their business and surrounding conditions do not influence them in the least. They thus relieve the weak stomach of all its burdens and give it its much needed rest and permit it to become strong and healthy.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. They are so well known and their popularity is so great that a druggist should as soon think of being out of alcohol or quinine. In fact, physicians are prescribing them all over the land and if your doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you frankly that there is nothing on earth so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

RUMORS TAKING ON SERIOUS ASPECTS

Talk of Dropping Minnesota from Football Schedule at Wisconsin Considered.

The rumors Wisconsin would cut out the annual football game with the University of Minnesota, which were advanced during the week previous to the contest in Minneapolis this fall, have received apparent confirmation from Graduate Manager Downer, but it appears that his personal inclinations are for faithfully keeping the terms of the contract that calls for the Minnesota-Wisconsin game in 1906 in Madison. The Wisconsin coaches, however, have decreed that three big, championship games in a season are too much and that one of the big games will have to go. It is agreed that it would be absurd to leave out Chicago, and the friendly feeling with Michigan is so strong that Wisconsin will not entertain a suggestion that the Wolverines be omitted from the Badger schedule. It is felt that Minnesota, having been defeated this year by Wisconsin, can be left out if the existing agreement or contract can be set aside, and then the Wisconsin coaches can direct their undivided efforts toward defeating Ford and Stagg. Minnesota has given the Badgers the most profitable game of the schedule whenever the contest has taken place in Minneapolis, and for this reason the 1905 game was played there even though the agreement was that it should come to Madison. Then Wisconsin was deeply in athletic debt, but now there is $10,000 more in the treasury than all the debts amount to, and with one big game at home and the other in either Chicago or Ann Arbor plenty of lure is in sight for the running of the athletic department here. As neither Chicago nor Michigan play Minnesota at home, the dropping of the Badgers by Wisconsin would deprive them of serious consideration in the middle west championship calculations.

MONROE SENTINEL FAVORS DUNWIDDIE

Editorial Expression of Green County Paper Recommends Present Judge to People.

Under the Caption. The Circuit Court Judgeship, the Monroe Sentinel prints the following editorial:—The Circuit Judgeship—in fact any judicial election to be held in this state,—does not come under the Primary election law. The procedure is just the same as ever: Either by a party convention or nomination by petition. Any candidate can come before the people, who can obtain a hundred or more names on his nomination petition and thereby secure a place on the ballot for his name. Apropos of this fact there are likely to be quite a few candidates next Spring for Judge Dunwiddie's place in this 12th judicial circuit, and that gentleman will be among them, and not the least behind the rest, although he has not been foremost in launching his candidacy for reelection. Both his principal competitors, Judge Grim of Jefferson and Judge Sales of Janesville are excellent men. Both are County Judges of their respective counties: Judge Sales for 25 years or more in Rock and Judge Grim for several terms in Jefferson county, and the people of those counties would prefer to keep them there, where they can do the most good. When once familiar with the duties of Probate Judge, and proven fitness for the place, acquaintance with the people, with whom he comes in direct relations so often, it would seem a pity to make a change—in fact it would not be in the interests of Justice or economy to do so—especially where men have grown gray in the service as Judge Sales has. Conservative people—the public generally—are disposed to let well enough alone—especially when there is no likelihood of making things any better by a change. Judge Dunwiddie's friends know he is a candidate, and those who have been taken unaware of the fact will not be led astray by misrepresentation or capricious criticism by over zealous friends of the other candidates.

PORCH SHADE FACTORY MAN GETS A LEGACY OF $30,000

Double Role Hard to Maintain.

"Did it never occur to you, young man," asked John Bright of a young fellow who was discoursing about "the fetters of matrimony," "that you cannot be a bachelor and a married man at the same time?" SHARON WILL SOON HAVE A GAS PLANT

Work of Laying the Mains is Now Completed and Connections Are Being Made.

The work of digging the trenches for the gas mains in Sharon was finished Saturday, and workmen are now busy tapping the mains, digging branch trenches and laying pipes for street lights and individual takers. About one hundred taps have already been ordered and the indications are that many more will be added to the present large list. This will insure success for the plant from the start. Forty-five new gas lamps of about seventy candle-power each will be substituted for the old kerosene lamps which have been doing duty for so many years. These new lights should make the streets light as day on the darkest nights, providing the man in charge does not neglect or forget to light them on such nights when street lights are most needed. In many private residences gas will be used for both cooking and lighting purposes, and time with experience will tell how the people like it for the purposes specified. Of course the patronage will depend largely on the cost, but one thing the people of the village can depend on that no trust nor combine can manipulate affairs so as to raise the price, only as the price of the oil form which it is made of may advance. It is expected that the plant will be in operation by the first of next month. The plant is being installed by the National Light and Fuel Gas company of Janesville, Charles Mohr and H. R. Chamberlain having charge of the work.

GIVES PROPERTY TO MASONS FOR A HOME

Princely Gift of the Head of the Wisconsin Consistory to the Order.

Willard A. Van Brunt, a wealthy Horton manufacturer, made the Wisconsin consistory, in session in Milwaukee, a magnificent gift in the shape of the famous Edgerton farm in Waubesa county, valued at $75,000, to serve as the "cornerstone" of a Masonic home. Mr. Van Brunt made only one condition with the gift. He modestly insisted that his name should not be used in connection with the institution of which the farm is to be the center. "I do not wish to hamper my brethren with the care of a monument erected to myself," was his simple statement. Mr. Van Brunt is the grand chancellor of the consistory. The plan is to make the home state headquarters for the consistory. It will be open to all master masons, no matter what their circumstances. Among the Rock county men accepted to the new class of the consistory are the following: Joseph R. Biscardi, Rock; John D. Bird, Beloit; T. N. Nolan, Janesville. The total number of the class was seventy-seven, making the total membership of the consistory fourteen hundred and ninety-two.

Floating Islands.

History tells us that islands made from reeds, which were not only moved about by the wind but by oars, were the means of the escape of many Roman citizens during the Mithridatic wars. Indian legends are full of interesting stories of the marvelous escapes of fugitives on "cane-rafts," which were floating islands composed of green rafts of canes or brushwood.

FIRM OF ELY & DUNN COMPLETE WORK HERE

Paving and Macadamizing Has Proven Highly Satisfactory to the City.

J. C. Dunn of the contracting firm of Ely & Dunn returned to his home in Marshalltown, Iowa, yesterday, after having settled with the city for the work done on the thoroughfares of Janesville. The brick pavements on East and West Milwaukee and South Main streets and the macadamizing on Milwaukee avenue has been found highly satisfactory and only unavoidable delays for which the contractors were not responsible interfered with the prompt fulfillment of all the contracts. The city officers found it a pleasure to do business with this enterprising firm, both on account of the careful, first-class work they did and their willingness to act at once and without quibbling or every reasonable suggestion.

EDGERTON REJOICES IN THE BEET CROPS

Six Hundred Acres Have Been Shipped from That Vicinity the Present Fall.

The sugar beet harvest adjacent to Edgerton for this season will close with the shipments being made this week. Altogether there have been 600 acres of beets grown tributary to Edgerton this year, and from such reports of the returns as are available the results are in the main satisfactory, says the Edgerton Eagle. Of these 600 acres, 350 were contracted by the Janesville factory and 250 acres by the Menomonee Falls factory. Frank Hartzheim, local agent for the Rock County Sugar Co., and R. H. Stockman, representing the Wisconsin Sugar Co., both report the sugar test is averaging better than last year. Growers contracted at $4.50 per ton for beets testing 14 per cent or less of sugar. Each additional per cent adds 25 cents per ton to the returns. Fifteen per cent is common, 16 per cent has been received by many, and some have tested 17 per cent. One farmer near Janesville had beets which tested better than 19 per cent. Deliveries made in November give the producer another 25 cents per ton, so that a large number of the growers are getting better than $5 per ton. An average yield has been about eighteen tons per acre. Some have been as high as twenty-six tons, while twenty to twenty-two tons have not been uncommon. Little dissatisfaction has been heard this fall, as the beets have been weighed and the tare deducted here. This tare varies a great deal and runs from two per cent up, according to the care with which they have been handled. "The raising of sugar beets is no longer an experiment and the successful growers realize that another profitable crop has been added to the list of the good paying kind that flourish in the soil of southern Wisconsin."

MELODRAMA AT MYERS' THEATRE

Proves to Be a Fair Production by a Company of Similar Status.

"Why Girls Leave Home," as presented at the Myers theatre last evening, is a melodrama of profound interest. The company, for the most part, is a capable one. The piece deals with the lurking danger from home of a girl, whose temper became aroused when she was tried to be forced by a scoundrel and a woman who thought she merited revenge on the girl's brother. There is a goodly amount of comedy throughout and is minus the usual shooting frays. In plays of this kind, a fair sized audience, largely in the upper regions, witnessed the production.

CLEAR REMF FROM COLLIER'S CHARGES

Big Football Center at Madison Receives Letter from That Magazine.

The graft sensation sprung by the former Wisconsin student, E. S. Jordan, in Collier's weekly, charging that Remf, center on the football team, was expelled from the university for non-payment of training table board and then demanded and received $500 as the price of his football services for another season; that A. J. Findlay, star halfback, was "kept" and also tried to "sell out" to Michigan; and that Clark and Vanderboom were athletic "grafters," is a closed incident so far as the Wisconsin athletic authorities are concerned. The athletic council, the faculty governing body over athletics, met and called up the players in question. All denied the charges and Remf produced a letter from the managers of Collier's apologizing for the statements with reference to him, acknowledging that there was no proof at hand upon which to base them, and offering to make amends. The council thereupon formally declared the charges false, and malicious representations, without other basis than hearsay.

HOUSE-HOLD.

Repose So Necessary to Every Human Heart.

This paper no doubt goes into hundreds of homes where there are over-worked, delicate mothers and wives who could make it much easier for themselves. They however do not save themselves at all. They get into the habit of worry and of rushing until they forget how to be calm and reposed. If I could stay the hand of one good wife and mother and save her from bringing on nervous prostration, I would feel that I had worked with God. There would be fewer of our sister women in the private sanitariums and hospitals if only those who are so progressive and busy would just stop and think. This habit grows alarmingly fast. The very best management of household affairs are those who can secure for themselves throughout the busy day, an hour or more of that repose so necessary to every human heart, there would be fewer of our dear housekeepers and homemakers in the hospitals, sick, if they would mend their ways and make a new beginning. Some read this paper to be entertained and many for politics, and others to be helped, and for those who wish help in household matters I will give a few recipes. One of the very safest and best cleansers is a household bleach. It cleans your kitchens and pantries and closets to perfection. Clear the kitchen and all the pantries of their contents and wipe in every nook and corner with a strong borax solution and sprinkle with dry powder afterwards.

Labor Notes

The international convention of Photo-Engravers endorsed the printers' eight-hour work day.

Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen have organized a state association in New York. The chief purpose of the organization is legislative.

Until recently there have been two Walters' Unions in Philadelphia, one owing allegiance to the American Federation of Labor and the other affiliated with the American Labor Union. The latter union has disbanded and returned its charter, the members joining the former organization.

At Indianapolis, as a result of a conference between representatives of the Coopers' International Union and the employing coopers of several states, the men have been granted a slight decrease in wages and a working agreement.

Chicago Teamsters and Freight Handlers, in their new combination, the Transportation and Shipping Workers' Alliance, evolved a new plan to permit sympathetic strikes. The scheme is incorporated in a by-law which declares that members will not consent to work under police protection.

Letter to Mr. William Zuili, Johnstown, Wis.

"Dear Sir: Have you found out you can paint a job with fewer gallons Devco than of anything else, lead-and-zinc or anything else?"

Mr. Floyd Almy, House and Sign Painter, Greenwich, N. Y., found it out three years ago; he writes: "I have used Devco lead-and-zinc for the past three years, and cannot say too much in its favor. I am using it now on a big job that I took by contract, and it has saved me at least $25 in the cost of material."

Devco is the strongest paint we know of; goes furthest; takes less of it to do your job.

Lead-and-zinc is pure; lead-and-zinc is stronger; covers more; goes further.

Have you found out you can paint a gallon Devco in less time than a gallon of anything else? That means less time for the job. Less time; less money.

Less paint; less money for that; less time; less money for that. Devco lasts longer; do you mind the less money for that? You are sure of it. Yours truly,

= FORTY YEARS AGO =

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, Nov. 24, 1865.—Scalded to Death.—A little son of Mr. Ezra Thompson of Emerald Grove, something over a year old, was scalded with hot lard on Monday so that he died on Tuesday from the effects of the burn.

The mother of the little one, as we are informed, was engaged in frying lard, and had dipped out a dish and set it away to cool, when the child reached up and taking hold of the edge of the dish, upset it, the hot liquid burning with fatal effect.

A citizen of Wilson county, Tennessee, hired a substitute for the Confederate army, who served as such through the war. The hirer agreed, in writing, to convey to the substitute a tract of land for which such was brought. Chancellor Steel, of Tennessee, annulled the contract. He declares that the recognition of the Confederates as belligerents, was induced by consideration of humanity, and in no wise invested the "so-called" with rights of nationality. Hence contracts made in contemplation of the existence of such government, in obedience to its exaction, and to promote its ends, are in derogation of public morals and law, and are void.

TOOTH TALKS

Have you ever noticed the "croaky" glare of some people's new store teeth?

No need for that if the dentist is able to select a shade of teeth to harmonize with your complexion.

It takes natural gifts of distinguishing delicate shades of color to make a good dentist.

Some dentists have this skill. Then, you may have noticed in an instant that someone has FALSE teeth.

Something about the appearance gave it away.

Some dentists have the ability to hide all these things which jar the sensitive eye.

The NATURAL must be imitated in a high degree and no novice can get these results in dentistry.

If you must have new teeth see DR. RICHARDS, who can give you the benefit of 15 years' patient study to hide that ARTIFICIAL LOOK.

PLEASANT PARTY AT THE TRINITY CHURCH

St. Faith's Guild of Trinity Church Held a Birthday Social Last Evening.

The St. Faith's Guild of Trinity church gave a very pleasant birthday social in the guild room last evening. Each guest came provided with a small bag containing one cent for each year of their age. The evening was spent most pleasantly. String music, guessing contests represented by rebuses on the names of various parishioners, as also on the names of well-known songs, comprised the program and proved most interesting. Dainty refreshments were served at four tables prettily decorated to represent the four seasons. The evening's entertainment was well planned and admirably carried out, and deserved a far larger patronage than it received. However, those who attended were amply rewarded and edified.

LOCAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

Aged Lady's Birthday: At the home of J. G. Wray, 47 Milwaukee avenue, a small gathering of friends was held to commemorate the birth of Mrs. Wray's mother, Mrs. Helen Edgar, who passed her ninety-eighth milestone yesterday. Mrs. Edgar enjoys good health, being able to read and sew without glasses. Her mind is active and one of her main pleasures is to keep track of the current events of the times. The aged lady was the recipient of many kind wishes and beautiful flowers and fruits and other little tokens. After an early tea was served the guests departed to their homes wishing Mrs. Edgar many happy returns of the day.

Pleasant Evening: Last evening at their home on Fifth avenue, the Misses Westlake entertained the E. O. U. club in a very charming manner. During the evening dainty refreshments were served, after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Helen McDonald, president, and Miss Anna Blunk, secretary and treasurer.

Deputy Warden Home: Deputy Game Warden Peter Drafa returned last night from Forest county, where he has been watching the deer hunters. He says that more game is being brought down than he ever saw killed before, but during his entire stay he never once heard the bounds. Mr. Drafa shot a deer himself and was accompanying it home, according to law, when in some manner it was switched off and sent to Madison unbeknown to him. During his stay up north he was for several days in the company of Charlie Ross, who used to shoot glass balls for Buffalo Bill.

GAINS NOTORIETY AS A MARRIAGE CENTER

Janesville Is Known Far and Wide as Place to Have Nuptial Knot Tied.

That the fame of Janesville as a matrimonial center is becoming known both east and west is apparent by the frequency of the marriages of couples from other states recently. This morning Rev. Tippet, of the Central Methodist church, performed the ceremony which united Pearl Bridge of Dexter, South Dakota, to Flora Drake of the same city at the church parsonage. Mr. Bridge and Miss Drake stopped over in Janesville on their way to Columbus, Ohio, long enough to secure a marriage license and special dispensation from Judge Fifield to be married, and then Rev. Tippet and be married, before continuing on their journey.

TWO SMALL FIRES IN EARLY MORNING

One Was a Chimney Blaze on Gold Street—Tailor Shop Stove Started Smoking.

There were two small fires this morning which did only nominal damage. The department was called out at 7:15 to attend a chimney fire at William Welch's residence, 236 Gold street. The fire was soon extinguished. About ten o'clock an outright stove in John Weiss's tailoring establishment on West Milwaukee street went wrong and got to smoking. The trouble was rectified in short order.

LIKES CALIFORNIA BUT NOT THE "SHARK-INHABITANTS"

F. Roessling, Sr., Writes in Interesting Manner to City Treas.

City Treasurer James A. Pathe's this morning received a letter from F. Roessling, Sr., who with his wife and two daughters arrived in Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 28. The writer gives a very interesting description of the trip through the desert country of New Mexico, but he is not enamored of the "shark-inhabitants," who, he says, regard the tourists as their natural prey and "imagine they can milk a cow without feeding it."

Everything is high. Three rooms are costing him $18 a month without light or heat. Eggs are 25 cents a dozen.

Twenty Days in Jail: Teddy Holland, on whom sentence for drunkenness was suspended some time ago, was again arrested today and committed to the county jail for twenty days. In default of payment of a fine of $5 and costs, James Hampton and Frank Mozbehl each paid fines of $2 and costs for the same offense.

Surprised by Friends: Mr. and Mrs. George Miller were surprised at their home on Linden avenue by thirty friends last evening. After refreshments had been served a musical program in which Messrs. Villan and Carney took prominent parts, was enjoyed.

JANESVILLE SITS UP AND LISTENS

To a Long Drawn Out Whistle Blasting from a Northwestern Locomotive This Morning.

For an hour this morning Janesville sat up and listened eagerly to an unwarranted long blast from a fog-horn-like whistle. People asked if there was a big fire on, for the din seemed to emanate from the railroad yards. Had there been some terrible wreck. Then individuals began to investigate, telephoning to various places for information, and at the depots the wires were kept hot by inquiries. But there was no fire, no wreck, no accident. The long drawn-out note came from an uncontrollable whistle on the North-Western locomotive which hauled the Madison-Chicago passenger, scheduled to pass through at 9:15 o'clock, into the city. In leaving Evansville the whistle was blown and the automatic shutoff failed to operate. This was before nine o'clock and all through the country and into Janesville did this warning apparatus keep up its unintermittent w-r-r-r-r. It was impossible to repair the disordered whistle while there was steam in the boiler and the engine was taken to the roundhouse. The fires were pulled, but the blast did not cease until after the locomotive was put in a stall shortly before ten. The engine finally "died" after blowing for an hour and a quarter. Another locomotive was secured here and the train continued to Chicago with but little delay.

"Shooting the Chutes."

One of the most comical scenes in the musical comedy, "Shooting the Chutes," which will be produced at the Myers Grand, Saturday, November 25, matinee and night, is that of the jockey race in the finale of the third act. The stage represents a betting ring of a race track. The scenery is painted so that with the aid of electrical effects, the race track appears to extend a mile in the distance. All are making ready for the great handicap which shortly takes place. One owner of a fast horse discovers just before the race that the jockey who was to ride his horse has disappeared. He secures a little Irishman, Sweeney by name, to take the jockey's place. Sweeney insists that he never rode a horse before, but he is too heavy to ride, etc., but the owner finally persuades him to go on. He appears in the most ridiculous jockey costume ever conceived by a costume designer. A real jockey race then takes place on the stage. The full company including all the chorus girls back Sweeney as the winner. The jockeys all start amid the cheers of the crowds in the grand stand and the horses can be seen in the distance moving around the track. First the black, then the bay leads by a length. This race is worked up to such a pitch of excitement that the audience really imagine themselves at a horse race. Sweeney, stops his horse to light his pipe. They are off again, cheer after cheer rents the air as the Irish jockey, the hero, again passes the other horses. When on the home stretch Sweeney does another stunt which is not on the bill. He deliberately turns around in the saddle and holding his horse by the tail urges it on to victory amid the shouts of applause and wins the race. This race track scene was painted by Fraser, the great artist of Brooklyn, and the electrical effects for the scene were made by the New York Electrical company.

QUITE AFTER THE RUSSIAN MODE

Ermine obtains an amount of favor in Russia that seems somewhat lacking for it in other lands. Whole garments of this snowy pelt, piquantly punctuated with the little black and yellow tails, are by no means uncommon among the Russian nobility and the wealthier of the middle classes. There is a Parisian air to the set pictured, the loose caraco, pillow muffs and tongue-shaped turban being all of the white fur, and just a touch of trimming, judiciously applied to the hat and coat. This coat follows the very loose-sacque shape that is in such vogue just now, there being a graceful outward sweep to its lines from the shoulders down, the garment ending just below the curve of the hips. The standing collar is arranged with a scarf effect, two tabs overlapping at the throat, and the smart hussar cords lend the last touch of style. The only trimming upon the chapeau is a bunch of ostrich tips posed at the left side, and the muffs is left entirely without extraneous adornment.

BAD BLOOD WEAKENS THE SYSTEM AND INVITES DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength, and when from any cause this vital stream of life becomes impoverished or run-down, it invites disease to enter. No one can be well when the blood is impure; they lack the energy that is natural with health, the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the vital energies are at a low ebb, and they suffer from a general broken-down condition of health. The system is weakened and unable to resist the diseases and disorders that are constantly assailing it. The Liver and Kidneys, failing to receive the proper stimulation and nourishment from the blood, grow inactive and dull, and the waste matters and bodily impurities that should pass off through these channels of nature are left in the system to produce Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases or some other blood disorder. When the blood is in this weakened and diseased condition it should be treated with a remedy that is not only thorough, but gentle in its action. S. S. S., a purely vegetable remedy, made of roots, herbs and barks, is just what is needed. It not only cleanses the blood of all impurities and poisons, and enriches and strengthens it, but gently builds up the entire system by its tonic effect. S. S. S. reinvigorates every member of the body, gives tone and vigor to the blood, and as it goes to the different parts, carries robust health and strength. S. S. S. acts more promptly and gives better results than any other medicine. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases and all other blood disorders, and cures them permanently. Our Medical Department will be glad to give advice without charge to all suffering with blood or skin diseases. Address

Michigan Is Chicago's Master

Yost's Football Team
Should Again Win
Western Championship
Title--Deciding Game
In Windy City Nov. 30.
The Opposing Players.

Will the University of Michigan football team again win the western championship?

That is the one great question agitating the minds of football followers in the west and middle west. That Michigan has a strong, fast team of championship caliber no one denies, and if the University of Chicago's ground gainers prove able to defeat Yost's formidable warriors the football sensation of recent years will be recorded.

The championship game occurs Nov. 30, Thanksgiving day, when Michigan meets Stagg's men in Chicago. The outlook favors Michigan. Michigan's team is heavier, faster, better trained and has a better record for the season. Coach Stagg after the recent Chicago-Purdue game was plainly disappointed by the showing of his men. He said:

"I was disappointed in the weakness shown by our line, in the first part of the game especially. The linemen didn't keep pace with Purdue and some of the plays came before our forwards were set for them. On the whole, our line showed improvement, but it is not good enough for Michigan just yet. If we can keep the ball in our possession Thanksgiving day things are likely to be better for us. Probably the most pleasing thing in the whole game was the grand fighting spirit of the team. It will be there Thanksgiving too."

In Bezdek at right half and Beker-sall at quarter Chicago has two men who are equal to any of Yost's players. Michigan's back field is a shade superior to Chicago's, and her line easily outclasses the Stagg forwards; consequently Michigan's line bucking plays should prove far more successful than Chicago's.

Michigan's linemen include J. C. Garrels and J. M. Stuart, ends who have thus far done excellent work both in offensive and defensive work. Graham, at guard, is typical of the other two members of the center trio. He weighs 230 pounds, but is very fast in his movements, notwithstanding his "beefiness."

Summed up briefly, the situation is as follows:

Michigan has a confident, highly developed eleven that works like a piece of machinery and is strong in every department.

Chicago must depend chiefly on the individual efforts of Beker-sall, the two halfbacks, Detray and Bezdek, and her two ends.

Knew the Game.
"I can call even this bluff," as the fearless telegraph operator remarked to the station at Gibraltar.—Baltimore America.

LETTERS WERE A HOODOO

Sign with a Bad Record Which Telegraphers Were Reluctant to Use.

Telegraph operators always have personal signs which they place on all messages they send and receive. Usually they use two or three initials or take two letters from their names. For instance, James Black will probably use "JB" as his sign. In many cases, however, they choose their signs in a peculiar way, says the Kansas City Times.

"We once had a man working here who signed 'KE' because he had taken the Keeley cure," said a Kansas City chief operator recently. "He afterward went back to drinking and then used 'BZ,' deriving it from 'booze.' Another fellow signed 'PS' because he used to say he received a poor salary. A woman operator we had here used to sign 'HK,' her initials, until one day her beau jilted her and married another girl. After that she signed 'BH,' which, we understood, meant 'broken heart.'"

"In an eastern office where I once worked there was a hoodoo sign. It was 'KQ.' The first man who used it was killed by a train; the next one went crazy, and the third died of typhoid fever. After that nobody in the office dared use that hoodoo sign."

"The story about its being a 'Jonah' traveled over the country, and to-day you'll find very few operators signing 'KQ.'"

EAST AFRICAN MONARCH.

August Sovereign of Eight Years Sits on a Throne of Scarlet.

The king of Uganda, in British East Africa, rejoices or grieves in the somewhat picklish and chow-chow name of Daudi Chua. This august sovereign—may his tribe increase!—is now "going on" eight, says Everybody's Magazine. To befit a colored scepter bearer he has a highly colored court. He sits on a throne of scarlet, and probably the court carpenters have made it a world too long for his chubby little legs. Under the British protectorate folks have to be economical in Uganda, and a king must grow up to his throne, and can't have a custom made one every time he has growing pains. We can remember when a king of Uganda was every inch a king, no matter how few his inches. So sacred, no supra purple was he that the remains of his food had to be buried lest its sacredness strike dead some unhappy subject. The British have changed all that. Daudi—we wish we had a photograph of him—Daudi sits on his scarlet throne, a leopard skin under his bare feet, a toy gun in his little hands. Probably not a bit more absurd and many times more "sympathetic" in the eyes of the heavenly powers than many a wide ruling czar or kaiser that has been, is, or shall be.

THE FIRST STAGE-COACH.

Line Started Between New Brunswick and Trenton, N. J., in 1744.

As public conveyances or the stage coach had been in vogue in England since 1610, the establishment of a similar conveyance was demanded in America many years before the war for independence, says the Metropolitan Magazine. As early as 1744, therefore, a stage line started to run between New Brunswick and Trenton, N. J., and by 1756 this route had been extended over from New York to Philadelphia. Moreover, as in England, so in America—the advent of the stage coach necessitated marked improvements in the highways, while the building of better roads and turnpikes naturally created a greater demand for more coaches, and what was more to the purpose, lighter vehicles. In 1771 there were but 38 conveyances of every description in the city of Philadelphia, but by 1794 their number had increased to 327—more than two-thirds of which were comparatively light vehicles—a condition which led one of the local papers to publish a most derogatory article concerning the use of conveyances in which it was stated that "even farmers wanted carriages."

Poplars in Search of Water.
The thirsty roots of a row of poplar trees in Traverse City made it necessary to take up and replace the tile drain which the trees choked and in some instances destroyed. Seeking for water the roots struck out for the sewer. Balked by resistance, but not discouraged, they traveled alongside, searching for weak or imperfect joints through which to enter, and when such were found they promptly occupied them, the roots knotting up like a den of snakes in winter quarters. In one instance several roots traveled side by side many feet, inspecting every inch of pipe along the way for a weak joint in the defenses.—Detroit News.

Unmarked Churches.
"One of the greatest difficulties I encounter in seeing New York," complained the visitor, "is the lack of signs on your churches. I notice a beautiful church, and, of course, want to know what it is. A little tin sign on the side seems a help, but when I consult it I learn only the name of the undertaker. Why should the church advertise him to the tourist instead of stating its own name and denomination? This having an undertaker thrust on you when you're out sightseeing is something of a shock."

Courteous Epitaph.
More courteous in its wording than most epitaphs is one in a Derbyshire churchyard which, after giving particulars of birth and death, concludes: "Twas said he was an honest man."

Watch Style of 1770.
One of the fads of 1770 was the wearing of two watches.
